though it is not believed that he anticipated any such tragedy as occurred.

He carried a copy of the letter from Colonel Parsons to General-Manager Stevens with him, and showed it to one or more of his friends who went up on the train with him. It was evident that he was greatly wrought up over the matter, and meant to seek a retraction from the man whom he considered so unjust to him.

A Richmond gentleman, who went to failton Forge on Captain Goodman's train and returned the next night, remarked to I Isspatch reporter Saturday that he read he jetter in the conductor's possession.

He was re-quested to retract its language and undo the wrong that he had done. He re-fused to do this, and it was then that Goodman drew his pistol and emptied it." This gentleman has known Captain Goodman for many years, and speaks of him in the highest terms.

THE DANVILLE ACCIDENT. THE DANVILLE ACCIDENT,
The accident to Captain Goodinan, for which he sued the Richmend and Danville railroad and recovered damages, occurred some ten years ago at Belle Isle junction, when he was then a freight conductor in the employ of the company. One Saturday morning about 5 o'clock, while he was bringing his train in, he started to descend the ladder on one of the cars, and the handle of the ladder, which projects above the car, braking.

Reference has been made in the Dis-atch to a difficulty in which Conductor Goodman was arrested on the charge of assaulting and beating Lewis and kick-ing him from a train on the James-River ing him from a train on the James-River Division of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, with intent to kill him. At the pre-liminary examination only two witnesses were examined, and neither of them could testify positively as to the identity of Mr. Goodman. The Dispatch of August 27, 1891, in its report of the proceedings before the justice, says: "Captain Goodman, who lives at 301 and Cary street, and is considered in even way a peaceable and kind-hearted gentleman, was placed on the stand. He testified that he went to Lewis for his ticket, and was told by the latter that he had given it to the other conductor. Colonel Parsons served as captain. In the First Vermont Cavairy Regiment during the war, He was not much given to talking about his war experience, but it is known that he was severely wounded, and he is said to have been a validant soldier.

He was a man of literary taste, and tury Magazine.

He was the promoter of a good many enterprises, and had several bills before the last Legislature, one for a pipe line. Some months ago he stated to a member of the Dispatch staff that he was endeavoring to bring capitalists to Richmond to engage in the manufacture of tranite, moulding it into shapes, Such tone is in very common use in Washingon and other northern cities. At one time Colonel Parsons published here a weekly paper in the interest of paying the entire State debt. During his residence in Richmond he occupied for while one of the Goodman houses, on th of Franklin street between

NEW MAYOR GOES IN.

Mr. Taylor Assumes the Reins as the City's Chief Executive.

OTHER OFFICERS ALSO TAKE CHARGE.

Both Branches of the Council Organize and Then Hold a Joint Session to Fill the Places in Their Gift.

From early morn till way after night fall the City Hall was an animated picture yesterday. The newly-elected officers of the city government and members of the Council entered upon the discharge of their official duties for the next two years, had at times written verse, some of his efforts having been published in the Cengratulatory frame of mind, and handshaking was going on on all sides. The old officers greeted with pleasure the coming of the new ones, and the new officers were earnest in congratulating the old that they would remain two years

Just as the two hands on the dial of the City Hall clock reached 12, Mr. Richard M. Taylor, who had been chosen by the people of Richmond to stand at the city's helm, entered the Hustings-Court room, and took the oath of office as Mayor before Judge Samuel B. Witt, Among those who witnessed Mr. Taylor's qualification were his aged father, Mr. William M. Taylor, Edward M. Taylor, his son; City-Clerk Ben. T. August, Mr. William H. Williams, Clerk of Special Sessions; Peter J. Burton, Commit-tee-Clerk, and J. W. Woodward, who cordially supported him during his campalgn

After the ceremonial, which was simple and short, the new Mayor returned to the office that he is to occupy. Arriving there, he found the retiring Mayor, Hon. J. Taylor Eliyson, upon the threshold ready to meet him. Here quite a large crowd had assembled to do honor to the new chief. As Mayor Taylor approached Mr. Eliyson tendered him his sincerest congratulations, and in a few After the ceremonial, which was simpl sincerest congratulations, and in a few cordial remarks turned over the high office of Mayor to Mr. Taylor. THE NEW MAYOR.

THE NEW MAYOR.

The new Mayor, accepting the trust in brief and fitting words, expressed his appreciation of the kindness and courtesy of the retiring Mayor. Mr. Taylor said it would always be his purpose and endeavor to discharge the duties of his office to the extent of his ability; that he would be accessible to the people of Richmond at all times and seasons, and he had no fear but that he would have their hearty co-operation in his endeavors to promote the common weal. "And when I give place to a successor," said Mayor Taylor, "I want no other thanks or rewards than those which are given the Executive who is now retiring—the conscious wards than those which are given the Exe-cutive who is now retiring—the conscious-ness of duty well done, and the esteem and respect of all." Mr. Taylor's remarks were greeted with hearty applause by those present. Mr. Ellyson then took Mayor Taylor to his desk to explain to him some routine matters. After this Mayor Taylor held an in-formal reception and received the con-gratulations of several hundred of his friends during the day.

Messrs, Caskie, of Monroe Ward, and Epps, of Jefferson Ward, were appointed by Clerk August to inform Mr. Glover of his election.

Mr. Glover, in taking up the gavel for two years more, briefly thanked the Council for this renewed token of confidence, and promised that he would fulfi his duties to the best of his ability. He then called Mr. Davis, of Jefferson Ward, to the chair.

Mr. Carter, of Clay Ward, moved that the rules of last year's Common Council be the rules of this Council.

be the rules of this Council.

AMENDMENT TO RULES.

Mr. Glover offered as an amendment that Rule No. 22 be so changed as to increase the membership of the Committees on Relief of the Poor, Light, Health, Water, and Retrenchment and Reform to nine-four members from the Board of Aldermen and five from the Common Council. In speaking to his amendment he said that experience had taught him during the past that the members would like to serve on more committees than they had heretofore. He had also learned that the larger committees always succeeded in securing a quorum, and that the larger power on the floor was wielded by the larger committees.

F. Jacobs as Police Commissioner from Clay Ward had expired on July 1st.

A JOINT SESSION.

Mr. Epps, of Jefferson Ward, offered a resolution calling for a joint session of the two branches on Thursday, July 26th, at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of electing successors to the two commissioners. This was adopted.

was adopted.

Mr. McDowell presented a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the City Clerk to call the joint committees of the City Council for organization as soon as practicable, and in the order named in the rules governing the Council.

Mr. Carter, of Clay Ward, offered a resolution appointing Mr. Peter J. Burton, at a salary of $50 per month, clerk to the following committees: Relief of the Poor, Schools, Elections, Polics, Claims and Salaries, Health, Cemeteries, Ordinances, Pirst Market, Second Market, Third Market, Retrenchment and Reform, St. John's Burying-Ground, Improvement of James River, Board of Public Interest, Shocked Creek, and all special committees.

Mr. Grooms offered as an amendment that the Committee on Fire Department be added to the list. He explained that at present that committee was without a clerk, and that its work during the past two years had been done by Mr. W. S. Woodson, and when the Common Council recently adopted a resolution granting payment for this work the Board had refused to concur in the same.

Mr. Geater of Clay Ward, thought that payment for this work the Board had re-fused to concur in the same.

Mr. Carter, of Clay Ward, thought that the clerk had already sufficient work to do, and added that often he could not tend to all his committees, for the reason that several of them met at the same time. He suggested that a resolution be offered providing for another committee clerk.

Mr. Grooms's amendment was carried by a vote of 22 to 7, and the resolution was adopted as amended.

President Glover then called the Common Council to meet this evening at 6 o'clock, when he will announce the standing committees for the next two years, He also stated that he would call another meeting of that boly some evening next.

Sugar—Strong: granulated. 4.32c.

CHICAGO, July 2—Wheat had a quiet session to-day, at the same time developing a remarkably strong undertone, and scaring an advance inconsistent with the macherate amount of trading. There was a full supply of built news, and little that might be ranked as being of an adverse tenor. The strike situation from a weakening factor has resolved itself into an induce of the strongest mature. The light receipts and the understanding that the chances for an improvement therein are not by any means assuring, with the ability to ship out by lake as much as may be wanted, and the always present consumptive demand, are the points now discussed with benefit to prices. September wheat opened from 15% to 5% c. ranged between 15% and 65% 105% c. and closed at 60% c.—a net gain of 5c. for the day. Cash wheat was strong, and prices were up with the futures. Offerings were extremely light. Corn was firm, with much of the strength carried over from last week. The receipts are the only important matter in this market, and they are now of such light volume that a sentiment in favor of higher prices pervaded the crowd to-day. The settlement of the strike will be the solution of the difficulty, and every day that supplies are held back, it is predicted, will furnish additional cause for an advance. September corn opened at 15% c. advanced to 41% c., settled back, and 15% and 25% c. Cash corn was higher. Oats were strong. Prices showed an improvement all around, more from sympathy with wheat and corn than by reason of any individual news of importance. The strike, from the standpoint of restricted arrivals and a free exit for grain via the lakes, was equally as forcible an argument for higher prices in oats as in any of the other grains. September oats closed at 41% c.—a gain over Saturday of 15% to 50% c. Cash corn was higher. Oats were in good demand from local consumers.
